Eli Cedrone, Oil Painter

“I've always been influenced by the power of images to express ideas and emotions. Painting is a process of discovery and decision making where disparate elements pull together until the image is clearly expressed.

I'm drawn to the human form where figures exist both in representational and painterly worlds and will I'll often explore a narrative theme to capture the emotional power of a moment in time. I feel that common, everyday things can be beautiful and resonant without being manipulative or artificially provocative. Landscape painting for me is a journey in search of something that evokes a personal response to nature beyond the obvious and descriptive. Ultimately my concerns are with the expressive qualities of light captured with paint.

Contemporary Impressionism best describes my style.”
